I'm really wanting to see what it looks like now especially if the seats are bolted in (and the steering wheel doesn't come off ;) :laugh:)

actually as of right now the steering wheel is off and the driver seat is removed again to replace the bolts and put new drivers carpet in. dont think I will run it this weekend due to the fact that the tires dont grab and when it does it dies have to do some more adjustments and hafvent had time other higher priorty projects
