Those seats are in great shape!

Do you think that I should bring back the classifieds component, or will more people see things for sale like this in the forum?

Classifieds are not a bad idea, as long as people don't use it as a reply and hijack the thread. You can search for items or cars or parts. For sale on the forum leaves it open to just about any thing and therefore subject to any amount of hijacking....kinda like what I'm doing now. :)

It's all good Paul, I hijack my own threads all the time. Right now is a good example.

I heard something about a head gasket seeping today. That would be about enough to piss a person off the trouble you have had with that. I should be down tonight to help Nick, he called and said he wanted to slip the heart back in the Z tonight.
